ada
architect & designer awards

accepting entries

Now in its fourteenth year, Design STL's Architect & Designer Awards is the only local design competition juried by an esteemed panel of national and international judges. Finalists and winners will be featured in the March/April 2021 issue of Design STL and online at stlmag.com.

architects, builders,
interior designers,
and landscape artists—

Submit your outstanding projects for a chance to be recognized among some of the leading names in the local design community. Entries will be accepted through October 16, 2020.
